

GOVERNMENT'S EYE ON BEEF PACKERS

Department of Justice Is Watching Every Move of the Men Who May Launch New Combine.

SECOND INJUNCTION PROBABLE.

If the Officers Who Were Enjoined Associate Themselves With the New Merger, Contempt Proceedings Will Be Brought.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

Washington, Sept. 13.—Agents of the Department of Justice are diligently searching for information of the character of the new beef merger which the "big six" is reported to have decided to launch in Chicago on September 27.

Every move of the corporations, which were enjoined on evidence obtained against the packers, is watched by the department authorities. The combine, which is accredited with organization for the purpose of evading the restrictions of the injunction granted by Judge Grosscup on May 20, as well as the provisions of the Sherman antitrust law, has not yet been publicly announced.

Whether or not the Department of Justice has yet gained information regarding the combine personnel or intentions could not be learned here to-day. The utmost reticence is maintained on the subject and the officers of the department, including William A. Day, special assistant attorney general, who was most active in the first steps of the Government's campaign against the Beef Trust, stated they had no definite information of the fixing of September 27 as the date for the new merger to go into effect.

The Grosscup injunction names many of the officers—in fact all of the most important ones—of the big six companies, as well as the corporations themselves. Therefore, any of these officers who associate themselves with the new merger will, if the new combination is a violation of the injunction, be subject to proceedings for contempt.

The corporations which associate themselves with the combination will be, under similar circumstances, subject to similar action.

When the injunction was prayed for by the Government Judge Day and the others who had charge of the case for the Department of Justice named Patrick Cudahy, Nelson, Edward and I. N. Morris, J. Ogden Armour, Michael and Edward Cudahy, C. F. and Louis Swift, Ed C. Swift, Ferdinand Sulzberger and many others who hold official positions in the "Big Six" as parties to the alleged conspiracy.

ANOTHER INJUNCTION PROBABLE. This was done to head off any possible attempt on the part of these members of the several corporations to reorganize under another name. For any of these officers named are found to be in the new merger in any manner with a combination which violates the injunction they will promptly be proceeded against for contempt.

If the new combination attains the point where the packers are striving for—namely, evasion of the terms of the injunction granted by Judge Grosscup—evidence is yet found which shows that the combine in any manner violates the Sherman antitrust law, the Government will promptly ask for another injunction covering the points not included in the scope of the injunction already granted.

Secretary Wilson, head of the Department of Agriculture, returned to Washington today from a Western trip with the opinion that the heavy grass crop of the present season will insure a large supply of cattle and a drop in the price of beef. He said: "The grass crop is exceedingly good. The census tells us that there has been a great increase during the past few years in the number of cattle in the United States. This information taken together with the fine crop of grass insures lower prices of meat. I do not believe that the price of meat, however, will ever be as low as it has been in the past, for the simple reason that the American people are more prosperous than ever before and are eating more meat than ever before. However, the exceedingly high prices of meat will be a thing of the past as soon as the feeders get fattened up to a beef condition. Another thing that will tend to keep the price of meat a little above the former low price is the demand of England for our meats."

MGR. GUIDI'S INTERESTING LIFE.

If Successful in the Philippines He Will Be Made a Cardinal.

SPECIAL BY CABLE. Rome, Sept. 13.—Mgr. Augustino Guidi, who is to be consecrated Archbishop on September 21, and is to start at once for Manila, as Apostolic Delegate from the Vatican, comes of a noble Roman family and has a remarkable history, almost wholly diplomatic. He studied at the Gregorian University and Collegio Romano until 1870, when he entered the Pontifical Seminary—that institution so dear to the heart of Pope Pius IX. Distinguishing himself there, he was sent to the University of Innsbruck, in Switzerland, where he took theology and law, the latter because he has a peculiar legal and diplomatic mind. His education was completed at the Sorbonne, in Paris. His career began almost at the moment the present Pope was elected. The place was that of secretary to the Nuncio at Madrid—always the highway to preferment in the Church of Rome. He was occupant of the place possessive ability. He was secretary of the embassy at Casar, and was present at the coronation of the Pope, and went immediately afterward to the Nuncio.
